

yard line. Yale was penalized fifteen yards for holding. A fake play got the ball back to Harvard.

Score: Harvard, 6; Yale, 6.

SECOND QUARTER.

In the second period play started with Harvard getting the ball on Yale's 35-yard line. Wendell shot through right tackle for three yards. Potter attempted a field goal from the 25-yard line, but missed by inches. It was Yale's ball on her own 25-yard line. Philbin lost one at right tackle. Camp on a fake kick formation, made two yards through center, then punted outside at mid-field. Smith on a direct pass made two yards at right end. Potter's outside kick was recovered by Camp on his own twenty-yard line. On a delayed pass Camp squirmed through Fisher for three yards. On a shovel shift Camp got four through right tackle. Camp punted to the 35-yard line at mid-field. The Harvard runner taking the ball to Yale's forty-eight yard line.

Scully dumped Campbell on hard that he was injured. Reynolds taking his place. On a fake kick formation Wendell took away seven through center. Scully got three more at the same place. Yale was penalized five yards for off-side. Scully dumped Reynolds for a loss. Harvard was penalized for interfering with the ball.

Spaulding made love to Potter's forward pass on his own 35-yard line. Camp made a hole in center big enough for an auto. Scully punted to the 35-yard line. Spaulding got four through left tackle. It was Yale's ball on Harvard's 35-yard line. Yale's on-side kick was illegal, the ball going to Harvard on her 35-yard line.

Felton punted to Camp on the Blue's 35-yard line. Spaulding got three through center. Camp attempted a forward pass. The ball was returned to Yale as illegal. The son of the father of football then kicked to Potter on Harvard's 35-yard line. Francis dumped Scully for a loss of two yards. Potter kicked to Eli's 35-yard line. Camp punted through Fisher for six yards. Bonelli was taken from the field. Scully as he had, he had either fractured his shoulder or broken his arm. His back was twisted in awful shape.

ALL WASHINGTON AT ARMY-NAVY GAME.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Although President Taft had decided not to make the trip, because of the press of public business and his recent recovery from a severe cold, official Washington planned to be well represented at the Army and Navy football game in Philadelphia today. Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Meyer each had invited large parties, for whom private cars were provided in addition to their own. Secretary Stimson had the President's box set aside for the use of his guests. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Beckman had also been the host of a party including several distinguished people.

SUSPECT'S MOTHER SAYS HE FIGURED IN GIRL MURDER CASE.

Ferrone, Charged With Killing Wife, Is Ferrone of Cunningham Mystery 15 Years Ago.

Proof, that the Joseph Ferrone now in the Tomb on a charge of wife murder is the same Ferrone who, fifteen years ago, as a boy of sixteen, figured in the Mammie Cunningham murder mystery, is in the hands of the police. Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty said today.

ARMY-NAVY.

(Continued from First Page.)

but the Army recovered the ball and was penalized for offside play. An attempted forward pass failed and Dalton

Cross Roads

Which Way Will You Turn?

Ever since the world began the pathway leading into the unforeseen future stretches before us until it loses itself in the mist of uncertainty.

Turn to Your Right and Behold a Well-Beaten Highway That Leads Straight to Success—

THE SUNDAY WORLD WANT DIRECTORY which will present nearly 8,000 individually advertised opportunities to-morrow, from among which it should prove easy to select the position, worker, home, real estate or business investment, miscellaneous bargain, etc., you desire.

SEND SUNDAY WORLD ADS. IN EARLY TO-DAY

recovered the ball. Nichols ran clear across the gridiron for a small gain and then the first quarter ended with the ball in the Navy's possession on the 20-yard line.

Score: Army, 6; Navy, 6.

SECOND QUARTER.

Dalton kicked off to McDonald, who was tackled on the 45-yard line. McDonald must be a hard citizen, for when the mass of arms and legs was untangled, Gilchrist, who made the tackle, was laid out. He was brought to his feet barely in time to stay in the line-up. Two line plays and an exchange of punts resulted in no gain on either side. Then Keyes broke through Brown for eighteen yards. Hyatt made four more. From the 35-yard line Hyatt tried for a field goal and missed.

On a long series of punts Dalton's kicking counted in the Navy's favor and offset the Army's superior running. There were penalties on both sides for offside play. On a fake kick Dalton made a sensational run of twelve yards, almost crossing the gridiron. Then Nichols was sent around the right end for fifteen more. Dalton ripped through for five yards. Gilchrist ripped through and carried the ball to the Army's twenty-five-yard line. The ball lay squarely in front of the goal posts, and as the teams gathered for a council every one expected a try for a field goal. But instead of kicking the Navy took three yards through the line. The Navy team lined up for a place kick on the twenty-five-yard line and Dalton

SPENCER, GUILTY OF MURDER, HEARS HIS FATE CALMLY

Jekyl-Hyde Prisoner Violent All Through Trial, Accepts Doom Without Emotion.

DEATH VERDICT AT 3 A.M.

Jury Ignored Insanity Plea and Decided Case in Five Hours—Crowd Up All Night.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 25.—Bertram G. Spencer, Springfield's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," was found guilty at 3:10 A. M. to-day of the murder in the first degree of Miss Martha B. Blackstone, a school teacher. Spencer, whose violent outbreaks have been unprecedented in Massachusetts judicial history, received the verdict without emotion.

None of his family was with him at the time. Spencer's young wife almost collapsed when word of the verdict was brought to her in another part of the court house, but she quickly recovered and went into the court room, where she consoled her husband.

Despite the lateness of the hour the court room was crowded and hundreds of persons waited outside, but there was no excitement evidenced. The closing scene of the trial from the time the jury returned with the verdict until court adjourned took but a few moments. No motions or statements were made by counsel and no date was set for sentence, which, in this State, is death by electrocution.

SPENCER DID NOT LOOK AT THE JURORS.

Shortly before ten o'clock last night Judge John Crosby of the Superior Court finished his charge and the jurors filed out. Judge Crosby awaited their return in an adjoining room.

At 10:51 o'clock this morning the jury came in for instructions on mooted points, and it was exactly an hour later when they again retired to the jury room. At 11 o'clock it was announced that the jurors were ready to return, and once again Spencer was led to his seat by his guards.

As the jurors marched to their seats it was noticed that not one of them cast a glance in the prisoner's direction. Each one kept his eyes fixed straight ahead and the expression of his face was not at all changed.

Spencer did not change color or waver in the least. He did not seem to comprehend, so quickly and so simply had his fate been announced. When some of the court attendants came up to shake his hand and offer their sympathy he merely nodded. When his wife was brought to him he talked with her in an easy, self-controlled manner and left the room for his cell without any agitation being discovered in his manner.

The crime for which Bertram G. Spencer was found guilty to-day was the murder of Miss Martha B. Blackstone by shooting on the night of March 3, 1910, on that evening Miss Blackstone, who was a school teacher of this city, was visiting at the home of Mrs. Sarah J. Dow, and with Mrs. Dow and her two daughters, Misses Lucy J. and Harriet, was putting together a picture puzzle when a masked man with a leveled revolver walked into the room and demanded money. The women screamed and started to run.

The masked figure demanded of them to stop and as the women did not he discharged his revolver, one shot entering Miss Blackstone's heart, causing almost instant death, and the other entering Miss Harriet Dow's head, causing a fracture of the skull from which she has since recovered. The burglar then fled, leaving his claw behind him.

The crime, the time the climax to a series of bold robberies that had terrorized Springfield for nearly two years. Always there was the story of a masked man with a leveled revolver. At the slightest sign of fear or resistance, however, he would flourish his revolver and threaten to shoot.

LOCKET WITH PICTURES WAS HIS UNDOING.

It was not until three months later that a private detective came into possession of the locket. The mysterious robber had dropped on the lawn of E. Blair, whose house was one of the last to be robbed before the Dow home. On this locket were the pictures of a young woman and a young woman. The initials contained on the locket was that of Bertram G. Spencer. He was a highly respected, hardworking clerk.

The pictures in the locket were identified as those of Spencer's mother and wife. He was then arrested at his place of employment, and to the surprise of the police confessed to the shooting of Miss Blackstone and to a long list of burglaries. Spencer's defense was insanity.

SECONDS FIRE THE PISTOLS IN MOST BLOODLESS DUEL.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Another duel, the third, growing out of the Langevin-Curie affair took place today without any harm being done. Gustave Thierry who gave publicity to certain letters alleged to have been written by Mme. Curie to Prof. Langevin was yesterday challenged by the professor for a combat of unusual severity.

Pistols were chosen and when they met to-day Langevin was accompanied by several brother professors and members of the French Institute. The encounter was directed by Prof. Paul Painleve of the faculty of sciences at Paris University.

When the word was given neither adversary fled, whereupon the second approached the duellists, and taking their pistols discharged them in the air. The adversaries left the field of honor unscathed.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything to say regarding the business side of the marriage.

The announcement recalling the wedding invitations reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sherman regret that owing to illness they will be obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding on Dec. 2."

As soon as the news was received, late yesterday, Lord and Lady Decies, who were in town to attend the wedding, left the city and went to be with Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, at Lakewood. They will remain there until Monday.

WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Mr. Sherman's illness has also complicated the wedding trip plans of Lord and Lady Camoys. They may go South this afternoon immediately after the ceremony, but the length of their trip will depend entirely upon Mr. Sherman's condition. Lord Camoys said last night that as soon as possible they will sail for England, where they intend paying a visit to Lord Camoys' mother, who is today, becomes the Dowager Lady Camoys.

Although reassuring bulletins have been issued by the family physician, Mr. Sherman's condition is understood to be grave. His illness is of a complicated nature. Although not in good health for several months, it was only recently that his condition became alarming, and under the constant care of specialists.

It was not generally known until last night that Lord Camoys' brothers had arrived. Henry Stoney, however, had been a week at the Hotel Plaza, and Edward Stoney, the younger brother, arrived yesterday on the Lusitania. Both expect to return to England on the same line next Wednesday.

TRAIN CUTS OFF A LEG, BUT OWNER SLEEPS ON.

William O'Brien Was Taking a Little Nap on Jersey Central Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 25.—William O'Brien of No. 234 Broad street took a nap early to-day on the southbound track of the Long Branch line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Trumbull street, Elizabethport. He had his left leg draped over one rail, and presently a Long Branch express came along and took off the leg.

The engineer of the express looked out of his cab window in time to see the sleeper, but could not stop the locomotive before reaching the man. The engineer got down and went to O'Brien, who, strange as it may seem, was still sleeping.

The engine driver shook the man and informed him that his leg was off and he was obstructing traffic.

"Why in blazes don't you look where you're going?" demanded Mr. O'Brien. "I thought that leg on the instalment plan an' on'y made the last payment yesterday."

Yes, dear reader, it was an artificial leg, and it's bereaved wearer was locked up on a charge of intoxication. He is still locked up.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything to say regarding the business side of the marriage.

The announcement recalling the wedding invitations reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sherman regret that owing to illness they will be obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding on Dec. 2."

As soon as the news was received, late yesterday, Lord and Lady Decies, who were in town to attend the wedding, left the city and went to be with Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, at Lakewood. They will remain there until Monday.

WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Mr. Sherman's illness has also complicated the wedding trip plans of Lord and Lady Camoys. They may go South this afternoon immediately after the ceremony, but the length of their trip will depend entirely upon Mr. Sherman's condition. Lord Camoys said last night that as soon as possible they will sail for England, where they intend paying a visit to Lord Camoys' mother, who is today, becomes the Dowager Lady Camoys.

Although reassuring bulletins have been issued by the family physician, Mr. Sherman's condition is understood to be grave. His illness is of a complicated nature. Although not in good health for several months, it was only recently that his condition became alarming, and under the constant care of specialists.

It was not generally known until last night that Lord Camoys' brothers had arrived. Henry Stoney, however, had been a week at the Hotel Plaza, and Edward Stoney, the younger brother, arrived yesterday on the Lusitania. Both expect to return to England on the same line next Wednesday.

TRAIN CUTS OFF A LEG, BUT OWNER SLEEPS ON.

William O'Brien Was Taking a Little Nap on Jersey Central Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 25.—William O'Brien of No. 234 Broad street took a nap early to-day on the southbound track of the Long Branch line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Trumbull street, Elizabethport. He had his left leg draped over one rail, and presently a Long Branch express came along and took off the leg.

The engineer of the express looked out of his cab window in time to see the sleeper, but could not stop the locomotive before reaching the man. The engineer got down and went to O'Brien, who, strange as it may seem, was still sleeping.

The engine driver shook the man and informed him that his leg was off and he was obstructing traffic.

"Why in blazes don't you look where you're going?" demanded Mr. O'Brien. "I thought that leg on the instalment plan an' on'y made the last payment yesterday."

Yes, dear reader, it was an artificial leg, and it's bereaved wearer was locked up on a charge of intoxication. He is still locked up.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything to say regarding the business side of the marriage.

The announcement recalling the wedding invitations reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sherman regret that owing to illness they will be obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding on Dec. 2."

As soon as the news was received, late yesterday, Lord and Lady Decies, who were in town to attend the wedding, left the city and went to be with Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, at Lakewood. They will remain there until Monday.

WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Mr. Sherman's illness has also complicated the wedding trip plans of Lord and Lady Camoys. They may go South this afternoon immediately after the ceremony, but the length of their trip will depend entirely upon Mr. Sherman's condition. Lord Camoys said last night that as soon as possible they will sail for England, where they intend paying a visit to Lord Camoys' mother, who is today, becomes the Dowager Lady Camoys.

Although reassuring bulletins have been issued by the family physician, Mr. Sherman's condition is understood to be grave. His illness is of a complicated nature. Although not in good health for several months, it was only recently that his condition became alarming, and under the constant care of specialists.

It was not generally known until last night that Lord Camoys' brothers had arrived. Henry Stoney, however, had been a week at the Hotel Plaza, and Edward Stoney, the younger brother, arrived yesterday on the Lusitania. Both expect to return to England on the same line next Wednesday.

TRAIN CUTS OFF A LEG, BUT OWNER SLEEPS ON.

William O'Brien Was Taking a Little Nap on Jersey Central Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 25.—William O'Brien of No. 234 Broad street took a nap early to-day on the southbound track of the Long Branch line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Trumbull street, Elizabethport. He had his left leg draped over one rail, and presently a Long Branch express came along and took off the leg.

The engineer of the express looked out of his cab window in time to see the sleeper, but could not stop the locomotive before reaching the man. The engineer got down and went to O'Brien, who, strange as it may seem, was still sleeping.

The engine driver shook the man and informed him that his leg was off and he was obstructing traffic.

"Why in blazes don't you look where you're going?" demanded Mr. O'Brien. "I thought that leg on the instalment plan an' on'y made the last payment yesterday."

Yes, dear reader, it was an artificial leg, and it's bereaved wearer was locked up on a charge of intoxication. He is still locked up.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything to say regarding the business side of the marriage.

The announcement recalling the wedding invitations reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sherman regret that owing to illness they will be obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding on Dec. 2."

As soon as the news was received, late yesterday, Lord and Lady Decies, who were in town to attend the wedding, left the city and went to be with Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, at Lakewood. They will remain there until Monday.

WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Mr. Sherman's illness has also complicated the wedding trip plans of Lord and Lady Camoys. They may go South this afternoon immediately after the ceremony, but the length of their trip will depend entirely upon Mr. Sherman's condition. Lord Camoys said last night that as soon as possible they will sail for England, where they intend paying a visit to Lord Camoys' mother, who is today, becomes the Dowager Lady Camoys.

Although reassuring bulletins have been issued by the family physician, Mr. Sherman's condition is understood to be grave. His illness is of a complicated nature. Although not in good health for several months, it was only recently that his condition became alarming, and under the constant care of specialists.

It was not generally known until last night that Lord Camoys' brothers had arrived. Henry Stoney, however, had been a week at the Hotel Plaza, and Edward Stoney, the younger brother, arrived yesterday on the Lusitania. Both expect to return to England on the same line next Wednesday.

TRAIN CUTS OFF A LEG, BUT OWNER SLEEPS ON.

William O'Brien Was Taking a Little Nap on Jersey Central Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 25.—William O'Brien of No. 234 Broad street took a nap early to-day on the southbound track of the Long Branch line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Trumbull street, Elizabethport. He had his left leg draped over one rail, and presently a Long Branch express came along and took off the leg.

The engineer of the express looked out of his cab window in time to see the sleeper, but could not stop the locomotive before reaching the man. The engineer got down and went to O'Brien, who, strange as it may seem, was still sleeping.

The engine driver shook the man and informed him that his leg was off and he was obstructing traffic.

"Why in blazes don't you look where you're going?" demanded Mr. O'Brien. "I thought that leg on the instalment plan an' on'y made the last payment yesterday."

Yes, dear reader, it was an artificial leg, and it's bereaved wearer was locked up on a charge of intoxication. He is still locked up.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything to say regarding the business side of the marriage.

The announcement recalling the wedding invitations reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Sherman regret that owing to illness they will be obliged to recall the invitations to the wedding on Dec. 2."

As soon as the news was received, late yesterday, Lord and Lady Decies, who were in town to attend the wedding, left the city and went to be with Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, at Lakewood. They will remain there until Monday.

WILL SAIL FOR ENGLAND AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Mr. Sherman's illness has also complicated the wedding trip plans of Lord and Lady Camoys. They may go South this afternoon immediately after the ceremony, but the length of their trip will depend entirely upon Mr. Sherman's condition. Lord Camoys said last night that as soon as possible they will sail for England, where they intend paying a visit to Lord Camoys' mother, who is today, becomes the Dowager Lady Camoys.

Although reassuring bulletins have been issued by the family physician, Mr. Sherman's condition is understood to be grave. His illness is of a complicated nature. Although not in good health for several months, it was only recently that his condition became alarming, and under the constant care of specialists.

It was not generally known until last night that Lord Camoys' brothers had arrived. Henry Stoney, however, had been a week at the Hotel Plaza, and Edward Stoney, the younger brother, arrived yesterday on the Lusitania. Both expect to return to England on the same line next Wednesday.

TRAIN CUTS OFF A LEG, BUT OWNER SLEEPS ON.

William O'Brien Was Taking a Little Nap on Jersey Central Track.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 25.—William O'Brien of No. 234 Broad street took a nap early to-day on the southbound track of the Long Branch line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, near Trumbull street, Elizabethport. He had his left leg draped over one rail, and presently a Long Branch express came along and took off the leg.

The engineer of the express looked out of his cab window in time to see the sleeper, but could not stop the locomotive before reaching the man. The engineer got down and went to O'Brien, who, strange as it may seem, was still sleeping.

The engine driver shook the man and informed him that his leg was off and he was obstructing traffic.

"Why in blazes don't you look where you're going?" demanded Mr. O'Brien. "I thought that leg on the instalment plan an' on'y made the last payment yesterday."

Yes, dear reader, it was an artificial leg, and it's bereaved wearer was locked up on a charge of intoxication. He is still locked up.

Lord Camoys and American Bride

MISS SHERMAN MARRIED AT HER FATHER'S BEDSIDE

(Continued from First Page.)

man's only attendant and Edward Stoney was the best man.

BACHELOR DINNER TO CAMOYS CANCELLED.

The sick room was brightened by a few flowers, but nothing elaborate in the way of decorations was attempted. Miss Sherman has received many handsome wedding gifts, but these have not been and will not be shown.

The change of the date for the wedding disarranged a schedule of social events. Lawrence L. Gillespie was to have given Lord Camoys a farewell dinner last night at the Union Club, but the invitations were recalled, and Lord Camoys, his brother, Mr. Sherman's attorney and Mr. Gillespie spent the evening in arranging the terms of the marriage settlement. Lord Camoys, at the Hotel Plaza this morning, declined to discuss the amount settled on him, or to have anything